In this engaging and sexy drama, Nate Merrit who has been abandoned by his father and raised by a single mother, joins the Marines to support his soon-to-be fiancée. While on leave in Palm Springs, he meets a seemingly free spirited young gay man, who leads him on a path of discovery - and to the surprising identity of the father he never knew.

Damion Dietz is a film director known for his successful, edgy underground/independent films. His latest film, Beverly Kills was purchased by TLA Releasing for theatrical and home video distribution in the U.S. and the United Kingdom.

A graduate of the School of Cinema-Television at the University of Southern California, Dietz' debut feature film Fag Hag (1998), a politically incorrect, low-budget satire for Troma Entertainment, was described in the New York Post's Page Six as "a punk, underground trash cinema classic". His subsequent films Neverland (2004) and Beverly Kills have also skewered popular culture and deal with characters on the fringe.

2008, USA, Approx. RT: 90 minutes
